COVID-19 RELATED PUPIL ABSENCE

A quick reference guide for parents, carers and staff Updated: 21st September 2020

DEFINITIONS OF COVID-19 SYMPTOMS

Please read these definitions through carefully. Get advice from NHS 111 if you are unsure. Visit https://www.gov.uk/get-coronavirus-test to book a test online or call NHS 119 if you cannot book online.

If you are unsure about whether your child should come to school or can return following a period of isolation, please refer to the scenarios below. If you are still unsure then call the school office to discuss BEFORE sending your child into school 01992 303331 or email attendance@wormlevprimary.co.uk

A NEW CONTINUOUS COUGH

A NEW CONTINUOUS COUGH MEANS:

 you are coughing a lot for more than 1 hour

OR

 you have been coughing a lot 3 or more times in 24 hours

 if you normally have a cough, it may be worse than usual.

The coronavirus cough is a dry cough. This means it does not produce any phlegm or mucus (so you do not cough anything up like you would with a chesty cough).

If you have a chest condition you may already cough. If you have symptoms of coronavirus, you may have a cough that is different from your normal cough, or your normal cough may feel worse than usual.

A HIGH TEMPERATURE OR FEVER

A high temperature or fever is a normal way for your body to fight infection.

This is because the increase in body temperature makes it harder for viruses and bacteria to survive.

You do not need to take your temperature to know you have a fever.

If you do have a thermometer however, a fever is when your temperature is 37.8C or higher.

A THIRD COMMON SYMPTOM OF CORONAVIRUS IS A LOSS OF, OR CHANGE IN, SENSE OF SMELL OR TASTE (ANOSMIA).

SCENARIOS

We are updating this list of scenarios as new government guidance is issued and as we come across different individual circumstances.

A link to the latest version of this document will always be accessible from the homepage of our website within the Covid-19 section, so please check back there regularly: https://wormleyprimary.co.uk/
