ENGLISH ACROSS THE CURRICULUM – INCLUDING TEXTS FOR READING AND WRITING OPPORTUNITIES 2024-2025

The term is divided into two – before and after half term (this is a guide only).

To support a Talk 4 Writing approach, see Download Free Literacy Resources - Talk for Writing

To support a literature rich curriculum, see the Take One Book approach, see Take One Book

To support the teaching of poetry, see CLPE's Poetryline https://clpe.org.uk/poetryline

To support the teaching of spelling, see Essential Spelling SoL

In each half term the children should have an opportunity to write fiction and non-fiction texts – there is no chronological order - the activities have been divided into fiction and non-fiction activities but they usually link to a History, Geography, English or Science focus and a linked text.

All texts are stored in the Staff drive - Curriculum - English - Talk For Writing - Non-fiction texts/Fiction texts

Teachers should refer to the T4W Toolkits when planning

Poetry is also essential as part of our core offer for developing literacy. Regular blogs from HfL support teachers with ideas for developing literacy.

For example, the first half term of each term...
